

FREE COMMUNITY WORKSHOP

National Speaker and Author
Ron Sandison presenting on:

"Taming Sensory & Atypical Behavior"

Dynamic speaker and autism expert, Ron Sandison will be sharing a powerful story of overcoming the odds. You will enjoy his compassionate presentation with a unique blend of wisdom, humor, and insight.

Ron's writings has been featured in major publications such as the The Detroit News, The Oakland Press, Awana, The Autism Society of America blog, Autism Speaks' blog, Not Alone, The Mighty, Autism File Magazine, and many more. He has recently presented at Oakland University, Kaufman center, Spark Center for Autism just to name a few.

Thursday May 4th 2017

7:30 - 9:00 pm in our Highland clinic
2636 S. Milford Rd. 48357

Points covered:

- ~ Insider's perspective on sensory issues & atypical behaviors
- ~ Learn the meaning behind the behavior
- ~ Ron shares therapy his mom applied to help him overcome sensory issues and atypical behavior to gain independence and develop social skills.
- ~ Learn practical ways to help your son or daughter handle his or her sensory issues.
- ~ Tips for preventing meltdowns
- ~ Appropriate methods of stimming
- ~ Refining atypical behavior into gifts
- ~ Helping your son or daughter adjust to new environments

Save the dates:

Handwriting & Sensory Groups forming now

Toe Walkers / Flat Feet workshop
April 18th 7:30 pm Clarkston clinic

Call now to register for Summer Camps July & August 2017

Pediatric Therapy Services